Imagine a place where casual sophistication meets sustainability - this is Environment. More than a furniture company, Environment is, as the dictionary suggests: conditions of the natural world that surround people and affect the way they live. With innovation at its very core, Environment applies an astute sense of aesthetic to a diverse mix of sustainable materials and textures to excite the furniture consumer.

Eco-friendly design has come a long way. Said to have “created functional pieces of art that are monuments to sustainable living” it is Environment’s successful experimentation with uncommon woods and textiles that quickly established the brand as a design pioneer. The materials used in Environment’s collections are either reclaimed, recycled or repurposed wood and canvas, providing true diversity in both appearance and texture.
